was getting in his hay, he noticed an unsual commotion among the swallows, which had built a long row of nests under the eaves of his barn. They appeared greatly excited, flying rapidly about; and filling the air with their cries of distress. As the load of hay upon which he was riding passing into the the barn, he saw that a young awallow in a nest directly over the door had caught its neck in a crack between two shingles stopped his team and set the vioning bird.
